How's it going, Legend? What are your plans for today?

Have you heard of this place, Third Home? I suddenly have this urge to play chess with you, finally see who's the better player. What do you say? Ready to lose, old man?

They have more than Playrooms, you know. They have a very impressive gnome collection in their gardens, which I'm sure you'd love to see. We could also grab a beeeeeer!

THE URBAN WANDERER

Where did you go this weekend? City hopping can be fun, but what about Wolfsburg itself? You have to explore the city you live in!

Are you free next weekend, though? Let's mix it up. Thirs Home has so many events going on this month. There's an exhibition on mass printing and they are screening "2001: A Space Odyssey". They also have a yoga studio on Thursday evenings. Or we could go there right now and take our work with us. They have a great cafe too :)

Third Home is open 24/7. It includes quiet lounging spaces, private terraces and beautiful gardens. But if you still have the energy, there are always events taking place, even at this hour! Do you know Salsa? Or what if we booked a space to have a karaoke night! The fun is endless.
